

Dear Colleague,

We are happy to announce that the "12-th Polish Workshop on Relativistic Heavy-Ion Collisions: from instabilities to fluctuations" will take place on 4-6 November 2016 (Friday-Sunday) in the Institute of Physics of Jan Kochanowski University in Kielce. During the workshop we will celebrate Stanisław Mrówczyński's 60th birthday, arranging a special session on Saturday Dec. 5. As you may recall, the successful series of the Polish Workshops was actually initiated by Stanisław. We hope that you can attend!

This year the topics will be influenced by key speakers, with the list including Marek Gaździcki, Mark Gorenstein, Tadeusz Kosztołowicz, Marek Pajek, Jan Rafelski, Anton Rebhan, Ewa Rondio, Bjoern Schenke, Edward Shuryak, Michael Strickland, Wojciech Wiślicki, and Włodzimierz Zawadzki, who mostly were Stanisław's collaborators, but we have room as always for presentations of recent important results in our field. If you are planning to come, please, register as soon as possible via:

<http://www.ujk.edu.pl/homepages/mryb/12thworkshop/>

If you would like to present a talk, please, submit an abstract through the web page by October 15. We are planning to collect a registration fee of 200 PLN (students exempt) to defray some of the local costs. Please, follow the web page for the payment details.

Please, make your own hotel reservations. Our recommendations are:
